Conversations with a World Ensouled

How are we to finally come fully home to our beautiful, troubled, and soulful planet Earth?

Friday April 15th
6:30 pm - 9:00 pm
Room S104
John F. Kennedy University
Pleasant Hill, CA
EVERYONE WELCOME

Join us to celebrate the publication of “Rebearths: Conversations with a World Ensouled” and embark on an enlivening quest of reconnection with the Earth and its inhabitants. Enveloped by myth, story, landscape, and soul, the presenters invite us to weave seemingly disjointed worlds and engage our human imagination in ways that foster a sense of reverie and belonging in Nature.

In turn, our fresh explorations into the landscapes of the soul and the soulscapes of the land brings to conscious awareness our deep embeddedness in the planet and supports a needed shift toward a more loving relationship with our surroundings.

SCHEDULE

6:30 - 6:50  Terrapsychology: Coming Home to a Sentient World  Craig Chalquist
6:50 - 7:10  Between Honey and Pain: Colony Collapse Disorder  Bonnie Bright
7:10 - 7:30  Metaxical Wisdom: Nature’s Reconnecting Fire  Adrian Villasenor-Galarza
7:30 - 7:50  Embodying Storm Energy  Katrina Martin Davenport
7:50 - 8:10  Earthkeeping: Dialogical Practices of Reverence  Eileen Pardini
8:10 - 8:30  Earthdreaming  Karen Jaenke
8:30 - 8:50  Toward and Ethic of Earthly Beauty  Rebecca Elliot
8:50 - close  Questions, book signing

Conversations with a World Ensouled